

OFFICE MARKET OVERVIEW

MACYN SCHOLZ, Research Coordinator

Canada became a global leader in first dose vaccination rates this quarter with the beginning of the vaccine rollout, which resulted in lightening restrictions and increased office activity. Metro Vancouver's vacancy rate decreased from quarter-to-quarter for the first time since the start of the pandemic, down 34 basis-points from Q1 2021. Reopening plans, tours, and renewal discussions have all begun to pick up. Despite the expected popularity of a hybrid office model in the future, most employers do not intend to continue remote work full-time, showing there is still strong demand for office space. Overall, Vancouver is still on the path to remain the tightest major downtown office market in North America.
